Mother's Day Messages - The Leader

We have been invited by The Leader to take part in a Mother's Day Messages souvenir supplement. They have asked for children to write a small message to their parent or guardian, to be published in The Leader week commencing the 9th March. The message would include the child's first name, and surname initial if there is more than 1, and the year group and the school's name. If you would not like your child's message to be published and take part please speak to your child's class teacher by end of day on Monday, 9th February.

Mental Health Day - Time to talk day

To celebrate Mental Health Day yesterday, pupils completed activities on wellbeing and did not any use technology for the day. We talked about the importance of good sleep, a good diet, drinking water and exercise to help our wellbeing. We have received some leaflets from the Healthy schools' team to help with Good Sleep which are available in the school office if required.

Super Learning Week - There is no Dragon in this story.

As part of our Eisteddfod preparations, we will be holding a whole school Super learning week across the school where each class works on the same theme. Our book is called 'There is no dragon in this story' by Lou Carter and Deborah Allwright. We look forward to an exciting week of learning.

Eisteddfod Design and Technology Competition - Model of a Welsh dragon.

After the school holidays we will be holding our School Eisteddfod and St David's day celebrations. We ask all of our pupils to make a model of a Welsh dragon at home as part of their homework tasks for February half term, and return to school by end of day on Tuesday, 24th February for judging. The House receives a point for every entry received. Good luck!
